- One subscription required for each active learner, teacher, staff. If an active user's status changes before a subscription expires, the subscription may be refilled for the balance of months remaining.
- Prices are offered only to nonprofit organizations, communities, churches, Tribes and schools. Some restrictions apply to new K-12 school district customers. Please contact us.
- Volume prices are based on quantities purchased and paid at the same time.
- All subscriptions begin and end on the same initiation and expiration dates.
- Renewal subscriptions must initiate at the expiration date of previous subscriptions to receive renewal discount.
- Communities, membership organizations, affiliated non-profits, local and national nonprofit organizations, Tribes, job training networks and post-secondary institutions are eligible for the institutional price. Please contact us to determine eligibility.  Institutional discount prices require subscription coverage of all students, members, residents, or participants plus related faculty/staff/tutors. Tutor.com not included in institutional price option. Quantity and price are based on documented enrollment or population. These prices support the social objective of universal learning access for a defined group.
